

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND RECOMMENDATION

This is the last chapter of this research. In this chapter, the conclusion of the previous chapter is presented. Besides, this chapter also suggests recommendations for further research.

5.1 Conclusion

The object of the research is Rainbow Rowell's novel entitled Fangirl. Since its publication in 2013, the novel has received many awards. One of the awards is A New York Times Notable Book. Rainbow Rowell manages to capture both the wildly popular universe of fanfic and the inside of an 18-year-old's head. Accordingly, this research analyzes the process of Cath creating a new world for Simon Snow.

This research shows Simon Snow with the new version of them by Cath Avery as a fan. Cath Avery by borrowing the character of Simon Snow tried to make her own style Simon Snow, as the fans who love the story very much she tried to make her own version plot. This research also shows the process of Cath writing the story of Simon Snow. There are several points in this research that are relatable with a fictional metafiction and poioumena.

The first point is about the creation of Simon Snow fanfiction. This is the process in which Cath Avery writes her fanfiction about Simon Snow using poioumena. By showing this, readers can understand the role of Cath Avery as a freelance writer or author in writing the new version of Simon

Snow story. The process of Cath Avery writing the story of Simon Snow to show all the proof of Cath's trying to make the new story from the real story of Simon Snow that was made by Gemma T. Leslie.

The second point, show the fanfiction of Simon Snow that Cath Avery made entitled Carry On. It explains the metafiction by the appearance of a new story inside the story. So, it's all fiction about fiction.

Conclusively, the one point and other point in this research is related to each other, because it leads to fiction about fiction which is depicted by Cath Avery as a freelance author who writes the other version of a popular character named Simon and Baz. This research also shows how the other story appeared inside a story.

5.2 Recommendation

After conducting the research, the researcher gives several suggestions for the readers and other researchers. The suggestions are described for the other researcher who conducted the same research. They can do further research about Fangirl with different theories. Moreover, the research can use different objects of research such as interesting video contents, novel, movie, song lyrics, and many other objects in order to give better and more brief understanding about how Poioumena exists in different settings. The other researcher also can analyze the function of Poioumena in the other research.