

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

5.1 Conclusion

The analysis of Carnby Kim's webtoon Bastard about the unconsciousness event that eventually causes the main character Jin Seon to become a murderer, concludes that psychological trauma and also habits that have been done repeatedly are the trigger of this. Psychological trauma is a time when a person experiences anxiety and fear of something or the worst impact can even make that person looks different from the usual.

The first psychological trauma experienced by Jin Seon was when he had an accident with his mother in the hospital rooftop. His mother threw him away from there and it makes a big impact for Jin Seon's life. When a child experiences trauma and fear and is not treated properly, the impact will have a long-term effect on him as an adult and it is called as the inner child, which is the side of a person's personality, emotions, or behavior that is formed by trauma or childhood injuries that have not been resolved or recovered. Then the wound is still there in the subconscious, so it manifests in the form of negative behavior and emotions. For example, feeling unloved by others, insecure, anxious, or wanting to dominate others. In the case that happened to Jin Seon, this turned him into a cold and introverted person.

He will only do things that are beneficial for him. He also stays away from the school environment and thinks that everything happens is the result of his father did (this is because he lost some of his memories and his hatred of his father made him lose the figure of mother, therefore he assumes that the one who threw him away from the hospital rooftop was also his father), this is also the proof of rejection as a result of Jin Seon's inability to accept something painful also at the same time the thinks he misses so much, family.

The second is about Jin Seon's habit. Children are great imitators and also someone who is blessed with the ability to adapt very smart and fast, therefore when they pay attention to the environment in which they grow up it unconsciously become something that is usually done or called a habit. When the child grows up in an environment that teaches him how to talk, eat, and dress well, then the child will imitate the way he teaches. However, when the environment in which he grew up taught him in a different way than usual, of course the child would follow what he was taught. Just like Jin Seon. Little Jin Seon used to follow the way his father taught him to "have fun" by killing and mutilating beautiful women. This is done repeatedly and little Jin Seon has been taught that, "This is the way to have real fun, so always do it with dad and we can continue to be happy". So even though Jin Seon has experienced an incident that resulted in him losing part of his memory, something that has been done as a habit and has turned into a great fascinating memory in his past, of course it will be difficult to stop if that person does not want to do it.

Therefore, when a teenager Jin Seon decided to become his father's accomplice in killing, actually in his heart he also enjoyed it as an unconsciousness of his hatred feeling for his father.

Thus, clear evidence that the Bastard Webtoon describes about how the figure of Jin Seon who always denies what he really wants and subconsciously leads him as a murderer as a result of various events that he experienced in his childhood life.

5.2 Suggestion

Based on the analysis from Bastard Webtoon before, the researcher can give a suggestion about how to live a life wisely. The first one is with respect any life. When you are born and then you live, you always have the choice of not bothering others or respecting their presence around you. We are social beings who need other people to live, therefore the existence of other humans around you is as important as your own existence. The second is the role of parents. It is proper and also the responsibility of every parents to look after, love and care for every child they have. So when a child grows up he understands his role in society and the family. Lastly is honesty and empathy. When someone is in a sphere, especially a family, honesty with each member of the family is the most important thing in order to be able to trust each other. And also empathy to be able to understand, respect each other's privacy and life, because nothing is more valuable than loved ones.
