

SUMMARY

This research aims to analyse the labor women to allocate time and contribution of women tea picker labors to family income in Bedakah Village Kertek Subdistric Wonosobo Regency and factors that influence of income a woman tea picker labors. The basic method employed in this reseach was descriptive analytical method. Technique of carrying out research employed was survey method. This research was carried out in Bedakah Village located in Kertek Subdistric of Wonosobo Regency.

The result of data analysis shows that the women tea pickers labor allocate more time to activities of non-economic is 515.41 hours/month (71.58%) than to the economic activities or activity of pluck tea is 204.59 hours/month (28.42%). The contribution of women tea picker labors to family income is relatively low is 40.13%. The R square value was obtained using logistic regression model of 0.838 meaning that the contribution of independent variable (age, education level, wages, dependants family and work experience) women tea picker labors to family income in Bedakah Village Kertek Subdistric Wonosobo Regency of 83.8%, while 16.2% remaining is affected by other variables excluded from the model.

The result of the Logistic regression analysis obtained test result is age, education level and was not significant and negative effect on the income a woman tea picker labors. Wages, dependents family and work experience positive and significant to income a woman tea picker labors.

Keyword: woman tea picker labor, woman income, contribution of women tea picker labors.

