

REFERENCES

- Bailey, Michael. (2016, April 25). Sexual Orientation, Controversy, and Science. Psychological Science in the Public Interest.
- Buzwell, G. (2019, June 11). Homosexuality, censorship and British drama during the 1950s and 1960s. Discovering Literature: 20th Century.
- Brown, D. G. (1963, September 27). Homosexuality and Family Dynamics. Bull Menninger Clin. (pp. 229-230).
- Chapman University. (2020, October). LGBTQIA+ Country Guide., (pp. 1-2).
- Child Welfare League of America (CWLA). (2012). Basic Facts About Being LGBT. Lambda Legal. Washington, DC.
- Davenport-Hins, R. (1990). Sex, death, and punishment. Attitudes to sex and sexuality in Britain since the Renaissance. London: Collins.
- Drescher, J. & Byne, W., (2005). Homosexuality, gay and lesbian identities, and homosexual behavior. Kaplan and Sadock's Comprehensive Textbook of Psychiatry (pp. 1936-1965).
- Eckert, P. & McConell-Ginet, S. Chapter 1: An Introduction to Gender. Language and Gender. Second Edition. Cambridge and New York: Cambridge University Press.

- Gundlach, R. H. (1969). Childhood parental relationships and the establishment of gender roles of homosexuals. Journal of Consulting and Clinical Psychology.
- Hall, L. (2000). Sex, gender and social change in Britain since 1880. New York, NY: St. Martin's Press.
- Hancock, Beverley. 1998. Introduction to Qualitative Research. Trent Focus Group.
- Harcourt, J. (2006, February). Current Issues in Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender (LGBT) Health. Journal of Homosexuality.
- Herek, G. M. (2004). Beyond "Homophobia": Thinking About Sexual Prejudice and Stigma in the Twenty-First Century. Journal of NSRC, Vol. 1, No. 2.
- Irwin, L. (2007). Homophobia and heterosexism: implications for nursing and nursing practice. Australian Journal of Advanced Nursing, 25(1).
- Jagose, A. (1996). Queer Theory: An Introduction. NYU Press; unknown edition (February 20, 1997).
- King MB, Bartlett A. (1999). A British psychiatry and homosexuality. Br J Psychiatry 1999;174: 106-13.
- Morris, B. J. (n.d.). History of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender Social Movements. George Washington University. Washington, D.C.: American Psychological Association.

Office of Adolescent Health, US Department of Health and Human Services. (2015).

Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Health.

Peake, L. (2017). Heteronormativity. In The AAG International Encyclopedia of Geography (pp. 3,315 –3,318). John Wiley and Sons .

Porter R, Hall L. (1994). The facts of life: the creation of sexual knowledge in Britain, 1650-1950. New Haven, Yale University Press.

Ramsay, L. M. (2018, January 03). The Church of England, Homosexual Law Reform, and the Shaping of the Permissive Society, 1957-1979. Journal of British Study, 57(1)

Slagle, A. (2010, August 11). Ferment in LGBT Studies and Queer Theory: Personal Ruminations on Contested Terrain. Journal of Homosexuality, 52, 2006(1-2), 309-328.

Smith, Glenn & King, Michael & Bartlett, Annie. Treatments of homosexuality in Britain since the 1950s –an oral history: the experience of professionals. Doi 10.1136/bmj.37984.496725.EE

Wagberg, L. S. (2005, November). Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity Issues in Development: A Study of Swedish Policy and Administration of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Issues in International Development Cooperation.

Weeks, J. (1990). Coming out. Homosexual politics in Britain from the nineteenth century to the present. London. Quartet Books.

Willough, R. (2017, September). Key concept: Sexuality.

APPENDIX

Synopsis of Somebody to Love

For Jeongguk, falling in love was a mythic, over exaggerated, romanticized, far-fetched, and idealistic. Falling in love was anything but realistic. It was fairytales he read and simplified shortened stories he heard as a child. It was the glass wall everyone puts up in front of their ever-lasting relationship to make it perfect. Falling in love was anything but perfect. Jeongguk comes from an unhappy family. His mother despised her husband, who loathed his wife. Jeongguk is a calm person, has reading as his hobby and very passionate through his work as a secretary of a law firm while he is still going to a law school. He already had a wife, Rosie. Rosie is a beautiful and gentle woman. She is a soft-spoken woman. For Rosie, work is a man's job and woman like her should be in home gardening or cooking. Jeongguk and Rosie had marriage in Yorkshire and they decide to move to London a month after their wedding.

After moving to London, it turned out that they are neighbor of Rosie's best friend, Veronica. Unlike another woman in 1950s, Veronica is an independent woman who never agrees that work is a man's job. She believes in the power of woman. Veronica itself works as an English professor. She already had a husband named Taehyung. Taehyung is a lawyer. He is a professional and famous lawyer who always been busy with works. Taehyung depicted as a golden hair man with lots of charisma. Since the first time Jeongguk met Taehyung, he already in a loss of word. He feels that he needs to impress him. To his unconsciousness, he is interested in Taehyung.

Apparently, both Jeongguk and Taehyung had problem within their house. Jeongguk hates it when Rosie always forced him to do the work and make money, he hates the fact that Rosie is a conservative woman that always depend herself on a man. Jeongguk himself soon comes to realize that he is type of person that wants to be taken care by someone, not to take care someone. In the other house, there is Taehyung who hates the fact that Veronica likes to rule him and feels as if she is the superior one in the house. The independency of Veronica has brought her into an arrogant woman who always looked down into Taehyung. In fact, Taehyung is type of person that likes to be the dominance. Destiny then brought Taehyung and Jeongguk into many unpredictable events. Little did they know, they fall and become comfortable towards each other. However, falling in love with another man during the 1950s was never something Taehyung or Jeongguk envisioned. Falling in love with another man is a very strange and absurd concept. It is a taboo everyone hates and mocks. Later on, they go through many events that lead them to many stages of realizing themselves as a gay. Both Jeongguk and Taehyung react differently to their changes. Jeongguk tend to try to accept himself while Taehyung went on with lots of denying. In the end, they are not being together as a couple but both realize that they have each other's name in heart. Taehyung still with Veronica as it turned out that Veronica is pregnant, while Jeongguk divorced with Rosie. Jeongguk then, as a proud-gay himself, become one to promote and fight for gender freedom.

