

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND RECOMMENDATION

This chapter has two sections: conclusion and recommendation. The former concludes the discussion on pro-life feminist rejection in fighting legal abortion in Texas as depicted in Unplanned (2019) movie. Meanwhile, the latter provides suggestions for further and additional research.

5.1 Conclusion

The object of this research is a movie. However, we see the data was obtained through sound aspects from Unplanned (2019), which includes conversation, utterance, and narration that highlights the rejection of abortion. The analysis uses Feminism theory as the grand theory analysis, and specifically pro-life feminism. The researcher found some similarities between the depiction of pro-lifer in Unplanned (2019) and using pro-life feminist theory for analyzing the reason for their rejection of abortion. Moreover, this movie is focusing the setting in Texas, where Texas has a controversial issue about legal abortion. Other than that, this analysis focuses on finding how was pro-life feminists' rejected action in legal abortion in Texas, which depicted in Unplanned (2019).

According to the object and the analysis, the researcher discovered that pro-life feminists described the object of analysis as several approaches that are relevant to the theory of pro-life feminist rejection of abortion to the governance legalization in Texas. The result of this analysis is Pro-life feminists opposing abortion through religious action, social practice, and upholding moral relativism values. Religious actions that carried out by pro-life feminists are praying for victims and conducting religious sermons. The two religious actions had different impacts, the prayer movement for abortion victims had a bigger impact than the religious sermon because pro-life feminists did it in the form of community and it is depicted in the film both have succeeded in fighting abortion on a larger scale than a religious sermon. Besides that, there are other actions taken by pro-life feminists to fight legal abortion, namely by carrying out practical social actions. The action includes a personal approach and offers solutions, and the two actions are targeted at women who are about to have an abortion by trying to have two-way communication or discussion, but these two actions will produce a stronger impact if carried out simultaneously. The last action is by upholding the moral relativism values, which pro-life feminists see the pro-choice feminists shows lie to the public. The action makes the pro-life feminist reveal the truth about abortion, which abortion actually has a negative impact on women that can irritate the value of feminism.

The results of the analysis above have an impact on the legal status of abortion that occurs in Texas as depicted in the film, as well as what is currently in effect. Texas has its own rules where abortion is legally prohibited except under special circumstances. Besides that, this analysis focuses on the perspective of pro-life feminists and uses feminist, liberal feminist, and pro-life feminist theories to do the analysis, through sound theory to collect data from Unplanned (2019).

5.2 Recommendation

The results of the study give rise to two recommendations. The first recommendation is about using other theories that can be applied to the analysis for using Unplanned (2019) as the object analysis. The second recommendation is to apply the theory of pro-life feminists and pro-choice feminists for seeing the point of view about abortion from a feminist point of view. These recommendations are presented in the possibility that they will be useful to any cultural researcher and literature researcher.

The first recommendation is related to the uniqueness of the object analysis. According to the IMDB and another movie survey, this movie has a low score from the watcher because the movie highlights the pro-life feminist as the protagonist and the pro-choice feminist as the antagonist. Moreover, other researchers could use this object analysis to identify more deeply about the pro-life feminist from other points of view of analysis or do the analysis from the pro-choice feminist point of view. On the other hand, the second recommendation is related to the implementation of this theory of analysis that can be implied in the other object analysis, which is related to gender or feminism's point of view about abortion itself.
