

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

After completing the job training at Cilacap Class I Immigration Office, the product was produced using English voice-over and Indonesian subtitles. The digital informational video comes in a cinematic video style with six minutes duration. The video explained the definition of a sponsor, the criteria of a sponsor, the rights and obligations of a sponsor, the requirements to have a sponsor, and the prohibitions and sanctions related to sponsor.

In the process of creating the digital informational video, there were three stages namely pre-production, production, and post-production. Pre-production is the initial stage before video production begins. In the production stage, several steps were involved namely making the video concept about corporate foreign guarantor, gathering information about corporate foreign guarantor, and writing voice over scripts in English language. The production stage involved the digital informational video creation process, with steps including video shooting and editing the digital informational video. The post-production stage is the final step, where the video was published on the Cilacap Class I Immigration Office YouTube channel.

In the process of creating the digital informational video, there were several encountered. Firstly, the lack of my phone storage while editing the video. Secondly, the lack of my skill in camera movement techniques. Thirdly, the lack of my editing application features. Based on the obstacles, I found several solutions. Firstly, I deleted and backup some of the file to free up my phone storage. Secondly, I searched for reference about camera movement techniques on YouTube. Thirdly. I decided to bought the application pro features.

B. Suggestion

Several suggestions could be taken as a consideration. First, it is recommended to do job training at the Cilacap Class I Immigration Office. The TIKIM division staff were supportive and gave good direction to help realize the project that was intended to be created. Second, if the product is an digital informational video, it is important to determine the video concept to make it more interesting. Third, when creating an digital informational video, it is suggested to have good preparation before starting the process. This will help make the process more structured.
